In conclusion, the former champion alludes to his meeting with Sharkey, in which he claims to have stood off the gailor in nine rounds.

The local alumni association of Kansas university met at the Contes House last night and discussed the place where the Thankegiving football game will be played. While the association did not declare itself as opposed to the plan to abide by the contract and play the game in Convention hall, it was understood by all those present that an offer from the Convention hall management to allow the teams to cancel the contract would be very acceptable. MISSOURIS BEST EXCHANGES.

Won Their Game by a Wide Margin

Last Night.

The second week of the Bowling League tournamet opened on the Brunswick alleys last night with a game between the Missouris and Exchanges, which resulted in an easy victory for the former team by the large margin of 289 plns. There was no time after the first frame when the Exchanges were damerous, as they were away off in their work, and, with the exception of Captain Allen, not one rolled up to his practice mark.

Hoffmaster was especially weak and just managed to reach the 400 mark. He could not locate the head pin to any purpose, for after making a double strike in the fifteenth frame he could only gat 22 plns on it; and again in the twentieth he cut off three pins on a spare. Seven minsed spares also serve to indicate the uncertainty of his work.

Captain Allen bowled a nice, steady game from the fifth frame and had good control of the ball. By the combination of a strike and spare in the last frame he flust reached the 500 mark, and which the succession of the same for the Exchanges was when McLeod made and the monthination of a strike and spare in the institution of the plant of t

Club of Ex-Kausans Suggested.

There is some talk of organizing a club of extansans in Kansas City. This move was suggested by the enthusiasm with which the former citizens of the Sunflower state responded to the reality to Topeka on the occasion of Kansas' welcome to the Twenticth regiment. There is no intention to have frequent meetings, but semi-annual dimers and celebrations in honor of Kansas events of special importance will be in order.

The Kansans who went to Topeka were so liberal in their contributions to the expense account that they raised $27.40 more than they needed. Frank A. Faron, their treasurer, gave the amount to charities, $17.40 to the North End Day Nursery, and $10 to the North End Day Nursery.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 13.-The interstate common commission began the hearing to-day of the com-plaint of the St. Louis Business Men's League against the Pacific const railroads and their connections in the matter of discrimination against St. Louis in the lxing of freight rates.

plaint of freight rates discrimination. H. S. Christy and Hen. W. J. Calhoun, a former member of the and Hon. W. J. Calhoun, a former member of the commission, appeared as counsel for the Business Men's League. A delegation from Davenport, la. was present, consisting of G. S. Baker, D. H. Home, E. M. Sharon, J. S. T. Jackson, G. W. Scott, A. G. Goldschmidt, M. L. Works and Lon Bryson.

Attorney E. S. Pillsbury read a lengthy petition of intervention on behalf of the Pacific Coast Merchants and Manufacturers' Association who desired to join with the railroads in replying to the compaint. chanto and Manufacturers' Association who desired to Join with the railroads in replying to the complaint. On behalf of the plaintiff's contention, petitions of intervention were flied by the Chicago Merchants' Association, the merchants and manufacturers of Milwaukee, the Jobbers and shippers of St. Paul and Minneapolis, the Kanas City Transportation bureau, of Kanass City, and the Commercial Club, of St. Losent Mc.

Traffic bureau, was placed on the stand as the first witness for the plaintiff. His testimony was largely technical.

From existing tariffs he showed how the Middle West was being practically excluded from Pacific coast territory because of discrimination in rates. The points he aimsed to show were that unreasonable differences exist between carload and less than carload class and commodily rates and that there were such variations in less than carload rates on hardware and other articles that St. Louis and Middle Western jobbers could not ship such freight to the Pacific coast at a profit.

At the afternoon session Mr. Vanlandingham resumed his direct testimony. He said he believed the tariff of June, 1898, was adopted as the result of some kind of an agreement between the railroads interested and the jobbers of the Pacific coast and cited testimony given at a St. Paul meeting in support of this belief. He did not know of his own knowledge that such an agreement had been made, but he had heard references to 'a contract.''

Attorney Harrin, for the Southern Pacific, conducted the cross-examination. He could not shake Mr. Vanlandingham's testimony that in his opinion some thing besides a mere question of meeting rail and water competition had entered into the framiling of the southern Pacific coast and competition seems the summal season in Chicago to-night, presenting "Tannhauser" in German. Despite senting "Tannhauser" in German.

Vaniandingham's testimony that in his opinion some-thing besides a mere question of meeting rall and water competition had entered into the framing of the present tariff schedule.

It was Mr. Harrin's purpose to show that the ele-ment of occan traffic by way of Cape Horn entered very largely into the making of schedules for trans-continental traffic. He also tried to bring out the continental traffic. He also tried to bring out the point that railroad companies ought to be permitted to make more from the shipment of carload lots than from less than carload lots, since goods in the latter case are more liable to breakage and loss. Mr. Vanlandingham rebutted this by showing that in such instances goods are shipped at owner's risk. "Still, your jobbers are competing successfully for Pacific coast trade?" asked Mr. Harrin.
"Some of them are; others have withdrawn their men and abandoned the territory," replied Mr. Vanlandingham.

The commission then adjourned until to-morrow morning.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 12.—In the case of the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia railway vs. the interstate commerce commission, the United States circuit court of appeals affirmed the decision of Judge Severn in the circuit court involving the controversy between the Chartanosica & Nashville under the long and short hand provision of the interstate commerce law. Charges were made against the Louiscitle & Nashville and other railways that there were distriminations in favor of Nashville on through Eastern freights, although that city was 159 miles further from the Atlantic seaboard than Chartanooga. The decision is regarded as an important precedent on the short haul requirement. The decision is regarded as an important present on the short had requirement.

Union Pacific vs. Kansas City, Kas.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(Special.) The case of S. H. H. Clark et al. receivers of the Union Pacific system, vs. the city of Kansas City, Kas., was beard in the supreme court to-day. The argument consumed about two hours. The case involves the question of the right of the city to extend its limits so as to take in the property of the Union Pacific railroad. N. H. Loomis, of Topeks, made the argument for the railroad company and T. A. Poliock and F. B. Hutchings for the city. The contention on the part of the company is that the act of the legislature authorizing the passage of the ordinance is unconstitutional on the ground that it discriminates against corporations in favor of individual owners of agricultural lands, who are exempted under the ordinance. President Hill Enters Denial. ST. PAUL, MINN., Nov. 13.-President Hill denies St. FALL, SINN. No. 13.—Frestein fin denies the story that he is interested in a proposition to establish a steamship and rail line from London to Hong Kong in these words: "I have." he said, "as much idea of constructing a new line of transportation to the planet Mars as I have of arranging for a steamship and rail line from London to Hong Kong. What would be the use of it? To-day the Atlantic is filled with ships of all descriptions—it is, in fact, a veritable steam ferry and the lines now running can, for the present, handle all the business which is offered them."

appearance in this city. He is the same handsome appearance in this city. He is the same handsome actor and finished artist that he was in times gone by. His wonderfully beautiful voice retains all its memorable purity and fullness, and he reads naturelly, melodiously and capressively. In Clarence he has a very difficult role. He does not find it necessary to give the lines of a romantic play the triffing point and touch of modern colloquialism.

Those who are cast for kings and princes are almost certain to be disappointing, perhaps because of popular missoenceptions, maybe because of histrionic incapacity. Be that as it may it is worth role while to witness this play in order to see a real prince, if for no other feason. Mr. James W. Hankson is not only handsome and princely to look upon, but he enforces the royal authority with a grace as well as emphasis. There is no estentiation in the assertion of the character, but the distinctions between the prince and those not of royal blood are clearly defined.

Miss Gettrude Coghian is sweet and ingenuous as Cella Price, but a more mature artist would make much more of the part. Mr. Thomas MacLarney and Mr. Heury Warwick are neceptable as Count Felsen and Lord Basset respectively. Some of the incidental characters are exceedingly well played. Notable among these are the Tipps, of Charles Chappelle: the Winch of Mr. William P. Sprague, the Marmaduke of Mr. Edward Davis, the Widgets of Mr. Taylor Granville and the Davis of Mr. Hugh Arnott. Miss Lotta Linthicum and Miss Grace F. Wolvin are not so strong as might be desired in their rather important roles. The eugagement will close Wednesday might, and will include a Wednesday matinee.
